TOPIC: Differentiated Instruction We discussed differentiating the instruction as much as possible for various, specific students in his class. We discussed how – for a student with low self esteem – to really add in positive reinforcement each time he sees him doing something well – however small. And with another student, to discuss a particular matter in a quieter setting – where the student will feel more understood and will have an easier time adjusting and learning. Overall, teacher will seek to implement the above approach with several students we discussed.
